

Biographies

Volumen 2 Número 2

Agnes M. Bosch Irizarry is Assistant Professor of French at the University of Puerto Rico, where she also collaborates with the Graduate Program in Translation. Her teaching interests include Foreign Language teaching and translation. Her research interests have focused mainly on New Technologies and Language Learning and Language Teaching Methods. She obtained her Master's Degree in Translation at the École supérieure d'interprètes et de traducteurs (ESIT) and her PhD in Didactologie des langues et des cultures at the University of Paris III, La Sorbonne Nouvelle.

Richard B. Grant is Professor Emeritus at the University of Texas at Austin. He has written many articles and books on nineteenth-century French authors including George Sand, Balzac, Théophile Gautier, the Goncourt brothers, Victor Hugo, Maupassant, Alphonse Daudet, Fromentin, Flaubert, and Zola.

David Jones is a visiting assistant professor of English at La Universidad Autónoma del Carmen in Mexico. He has a Ph.D. in Comparative Literature & Cultural Studies from the University of Arkansas. He publishes in the areas of opera, literary analysis and Bulgarian literary translation.

Jonathan Krell is Professor of French at the University of Georgia. His principal research interests are in the contemporary French novel and its relationship to myth and ecology. He is the author of The Ogre's Progress: Images of the Ogre in Modern and Contemporary French Fiction (2009) and Tournier élémentaire (1994), and translator of Michel Tournier's Le Miroir des idées (The Mirror of Ideas) and Eléazar, ou La Source et le buisson (Eleazar: Exodus to the West) (1998 and 2002).

Maria-Leonilde Araújo-Gröchenig is a Spanish lecturer. She received her Ph.D. from the University of Connecticut. Her research interests are women's studies in Spanish and Portuguese literatures.